

Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy (the Policy) contains the policies of International Dehydrated Foods, Inc. (“IDF”) regarding the collection and use of information relating to this Web Site (the Web Site) except where noted. References to individuals accessing this Web Site (the User/s) relates to any person or company that visits or uses the Web Site.

By using the Web Site you represent that you have read this Policy and consent to the use of personal information collected by IDF as described in this Policy. IDF may make changes to this Policy by posting the revised Policy on this Web Site. Please check with each visit to ensure that you have reviewed the most current Policy. Using the Web Site after any change to the Privacy Policy will be deemed consent to the change.

General Information Collection

IDF may collect, maintain, and process information provided by or concerning Users on and through the Web Site. Users represent and warrant that all information they provide to IDF is accurate, current, non-misleading and relevant for the purpose provided. Users of the Web Site also represent and warrant that they have the authority to provide any information submitted and agree that IDF may occasionally verify that authority. IDF will not sell or share any User information and all such information provided is for the private use of IDF.

Public Areas of the Web Site

Users may visit the public areas of the Web Site without disclosing any personal information about themselves, other than the automatic logging of basic usage data as described in Usage Data below.

Contact Information

If a User requests information from IDF, an e-mail or other contact information may be required in order to allow IDF to reply or for other related purposes. IDF will request only that information reasonably necessary to provide requested information or services. If applicable, users may elect to opt-out from receiving communications by following the instructions described in the communication sent from IDF.

Usage Data

IDF will collect information about how Users use the Web Site. This data may include a User’s domain name, language, type of browser and operating system, Internet service provider, Internet protocol (IP) address, the site or reference directing the User to the Web Site, and the amount of time spent on the Web Site (collectively, Usage Data). IDF may monitor and use Usage Data in aggregated form to measure the Web Site's performance and activity to improve the Web Site's design and functionality. IDF may also use Usage Data for security purposes.

Acceptable Disclosures

IDF may use third parties to provide or perform services and functions of the Web Site. For example, IDF may use a third party supplier to provide functionality provided through a browser re-direction or framed use of systems operated by that third party supplier. IDF will make information concerning Users and their use of the Web Site available to these suppliers, as necessary, to perform these functions. Any access to that information will be limited to the purpose for which the information was provided. The suppliers may be located throughout the world; therefore, information relating to Users may be sent worldwide to countries having different privacy protection standards than the User's country of residence. IDF may also make information concerning Users, the Web Site, and the uses thereof, available to law enforcement personnel and agencies as required by law. Where permitted by law, IDF may also disclose such information to law enforcement personnel and agencies, or use such information as part of the legal process, in order to protect its property or in support of an investigation regarding a breach of the terms of use or any unauthorized access to or use of the Web Site.

Linked Sites

IDF may provide links to third party Web sites (Linked Sites) from the Web Site. Linked Sites are not necessarily reviewed, controlled or examined by IDF. Each Linked Site may have its own terms of use and privacy policy, and Users must be familiar and comply with all such terms and policies when using Linked Sites. IDF is not responsible for the policies and practices of any Linked Site, or any additional links contained in them. These links do not imply IDF's endorsement of the Linked Sites or any company or service. Users shall not link or attempt to link any third party Web Site to IDF's Web Site without the written consent of IDF. Users may choose to provide a direct link from User's Web Site to IDF's Web Site; however, User agrees that any such link will be removed at the request of IDF.

Transfer of Information

In the event of a sale, merger, liquidation, dissolution, or sale or transfer of the assets of IDF or any of its business operations, information provided by or collected about Users may be sold, assigned, or transferred to a party acquiring all or substantially all of the equity and/or assets of IDF or its business operation so that such party may continue the operation of the Web Site. IDF may also transfer such information to its subsidiaries and affiliates directly involved in the operation of the Web Site.

Security

IDF has implemented technology and security policies and procedures intended to reduce the risk of accidental loss or destruction of, or the unauthorized disclosure or access to, such information, reasonably appropriate to the level of the data concerned.

Contact Us (Questions, Comments or Complaints)

If you would like to communicate with IDF regarding privacy issues or have questions, comments or complaints about this Policy or Web Site, please forward such communication to IDF at info@idf.com.